Symptoms

Of Defective Vision

Many persons have the idea that defective vision manifests itself only in a failure or inability to see clearly, but itching, burning, smarting of the lids, dull pains in the eyes or head, even the back of the head, all come from irregularities in the optical construction of the eyes and may be entirely relieved by correctly fitted glasses.

DR. J. T. JOHNSON guarantees to correct every case that he undertakes. If your eyes are giving annoyance consult him at once.

THE DETENTION CAMP.

Now Deserted and The Wind Whistles Through The Cracks.

A Telegram man interviewed Mr. James K. Curtis this morning. Mr. Curtis is one of the parties who were detained in the pest house in the pine thicket on the cemetery lot. He, with the others, was released yesterday, and is glad of his liberty again. He desires us to state on behalf of the detained party, that they desire to thank E. M. Caldwell & Bro. for nice games sent out to them. Mr. Tom Tate for reading matter furnished and Mr. Blake of the No-Charge Co. for his thoughtfulness in brightening the place with beautiful flowers. These things were all greatly appreciated.

Mr. Curtis says they fared better than one would naturally suppose, judging from the gruesome name of the place and the surroundings. Their meals were regular and of good quality of food. "But," says he, "there is one point that was overlooked. The house was built of unseasoned material and when our fires dried the lumber there were more windows than the architect intended there should be. Cracks opened in the walls and around the floor, through which the March winds sang a mournful requiem, and the sharp blasts made it difficult to keep very snug and comfortable."

We asked Mr. Curtis to explain why he left town when there was talk of quarantining him. "Why," said he, "I lived across the street from Fortress, and I did not want to be quarantined in that neighborhood. I consulted a physician before I left and he told me there was no danger in going, that as I had not been nearer Fortress than passing along the street by his house. I could not be said to have been exposed to the disease. I then went to Mr. May's, five miles in the country, believing it was a perfectly harmless act, as the physician told me there was no danger. I was there when they sent for me and I came back to go into the detention camp."

Matthews is Now Opening.

Dropping in at Matthews' new clothing store in M. P. Publishing House building yesterday, a Telegram man found Mr. W. H. Matthews busy opening up and arranging his new spring stock. He said: "Say through your paper to my friends that I haven't had time to write an ad yet, but that I am preparing to give them the full worth of their money. I shall sell at one price, strictly, for cash, and at the lowest price. No man will have advantage over another in buying from me. I believe this the best way to conduct a retail business, and the only satisfactory way to both buyer and seller."

Marriage at Friendship.

Mr. Charles O. Stewart and Miss Alice Wakefield were united in marriage in the Methodist church at Friendship at high noon yesterday. Rev. John Wakefield, brother of the bride, officiating. The groom is a bright young man, having for the past five years successfully managed the farm of A. G. Kirkman at that place. The bride is the accomplished daughter of the late Henry Wakefield.

They were the recipients of a number of handsome presents and after the ceremony the guests were treated to a sumptuous dinner at the residence of Mr. Kirkman. May happiness and prosperity attend them.

Ladies who want to buy up-to-date low shoes for spring and summer wear, should go and take a look at the new Southern button and the Oxford's just put on sale at Thacker & Brockmann's. The Cincinnati, Carlisle and Hamilton-Brown Shoe Co's. lines are particularly attractive. If it does not suit you to go to the store, Thacker & Brockmann will take pleasure in sending a selection of these styles to your residence for you to examine and try on.

Our name on a shoe is good, but Boyden's is better $5.00. Kaufmann, under the Benbow.

Mr. Kyle To Leave.

An official order was issued yesterday, moving the office of Mr. E. D. Kyle, traveling freight agent for the Seaboard Air Line, from Greensboro to Raleigh. The order takes effect April 1st. Mr. Kyle's many friends here will regret exceedingly to see him leave. He is a gentleman of rare ability and in him Greensboro loses and Raleigh gains a good citizen. Continued success to him.

Geo. W. Fields, who has been employed in Mr. Kyle's office, will probably remain in Greensboro.

Argument, none necessary. Kaufmann's $3.00 tans are the best shoes in the city, under the Benbow.

Millinery Opening.

New York Millinery at J. E. Scott's, 514 South Elm street—opening of French patterns and other Easter novelties will be on Thursday and Friday, March 30 and 31, to which you are invited without further notice.

M'ARTHUR ADVANCES SLOWLY

The Town of Guiguinto Has Been Reached

FIERCE FIGHTING ENCOUNTERED

At The River Before Guiguinto. Our Losses Amount to Seventy Wounded—Filipinos Deserting.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

Manila, March 30—General McArthur's advance guard reached Guiguinto today. Fierce fighting was encountered at the river before Guiguinto, and our losses amounted to seventy wounded. Today's advance developed but hastily-prepared intrenchments between Mariolao and Guiguinto. These trenches compared very unfavorably with the numerous finely-entrenched, strong works hitherto encountered. The Filipinos are now leaving behind them many rifles and much ammunition, and prisoners tell tales suggesting the absolute demoralization of Aguinaldo's army. It does not seem possible that they will be able to make another stand after the fall of Malolos. Some of the insurgent soldiers have already deserted, taking to the mountains where they assume guerrilla warfare.

The American troops have been running railroad trains as fast as beline could be repaired, which extends now as far as Bacove, which was captured on Wednesday. Very little repairing of the road is needed now. The signal corps has kept the field telegraph in excellent working order, and McArthur is kept in constant communication with Otis.

FALL OF MALOLOS EXPECTED.

Washington, March 30—The war department does not expect to receive any further official news from Otis until late tonight or early tomorrow morning. So near did troops advance to Malolos on yesterday that the belief prevails in Washington that the report of today's fighting will show the city taken.

WANTED TO COMMIT SUICIDE.

A Tramp Was Locked Up to Save His Life.

A tramp, who gave his name as Thomas L. Burk, of New York, was drunk at the Southern depot yesterday afternoon. Several times he expressed his intention to commit suicide and twice crawled under a freight car and lay down. He was pulled out, but soon afterward sprang in front of a shifting engine, escaping death, however. Officer Pierce, who did not like to run the risk, even if the fellow was fooling, took him in tow and locked him up.

He will be tried before Mayor Taylor this afternoon and if he promises to live until he "comes to his death by natural causes," as a coroner's jury would say, will probably get off light.

Queen quality oxford ties $2.50, at Shrier's, 216 South Elm.

New Depot Dots.

Neat oak rocking chairs have been placed in the white ladies' reception room at the new depot. A nice oak table is also a part of the furniture of the ladies, "retreat." The room for colored women will be furnished in the same way. The interior of these rooms is furnished entirely in oak, both having oak floors, which for durability and beauty are only surpassed by the floors of the large reception rooms.

The work of putting on the granditold pavement around the depot was begun today. This, like the work on all parts of the building, has been delayed by the cold and rainy weather. The work will not be completed before May 1st, but this does not mean that the depot cannot be occupied before that time and it is hoped that it will be. The almost everlasting granditold will be slanted so that water cannot stand.

To Be a Trained Nurse.

Miss Margaret DeButts left at noon today for Baltimore to enter the Church Home and Infirmary where she will receive training for a career as a trained nurse. Miss DeButts is a young lady of charming qualities, beloved by all, because she is loving and her great sacrifice is evidence of a noble character. She carries with her the best wishes of her hundreds of friends here.

Back From The South.

Charles E. Brower returned yesterday afternoon from the south, having been away on a pleasure trip since the first of March. While away he visited in Florida, Alabama and Texas, spending most of the time in the latter state. He reports a most pleasant trip throughout.

Mr. Brower has accepted a position with Will H. Matthews & Company, entering upon his duties there today.

THE SAGGON INCIDENT.

Germany Not Taking Sides—Bombardment Continues.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.
Washington, March 30—The navy department posted the following bulletin at noon:

"Latest—Kantz, Apia, via Auckland, March 29—To the Secretary of Navy: Situation improving, since my telegram of March 18."

"Kantz"

The state department views the Samoan incident without the slightest apprehension of trouble. The fact that the German warship did not participate with either side is held as proof conclusive that Germany does not sustain the cause of the rebels. Views exchanged between the department and the German embassy today were most amicable.

BOMBARDMENT CONTINUES.

Berlin, March 30—A brief official dispatch just received from Apia, dated March 20, says: "Bombardment continues in pursuance of the military orders. Many homes have been evacuated."

GERMANS DEEPLY STUNG.

By Persistent Efforts of England To Kick Up a Racket.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

Berlin, March 30—The Cologne Gazette characterizes the statement that Germany intends to retire from Samoa as pure invention, referring to the part the United States played, through Ambassador White, with great dissatisfaction. The Gazette says that Germans are deeply stung by the persistent efforts of England to prevent friendly relations from existing between Germany and the United States.

Federal Court.

Federal court opens here next Monday and the usual crowd of Stokes and Wilkes rough-shod moonshiners may be looked for. As yet no judge has been designated to preside at this term. Judge Ewart now having been re-appointed and unless the special term of court at Asheville, at which Judge Purnell is presiding, is completed this week, a judge will probably be borrowed from Virginia or South Carolina. The docket is unusually heavy.

Illustrated Series Begins Tonight.

The Celebrated Illustrated Lecture Series will be begun tonight at the academy of music. Dr. N. W. Tracy, of the Gospel Temperance Evangelist delivers his introductory talk and illustrates his Rock of Ages series. The lectures which are to follow. The lecture and illustrations change every night, and since every seat is free tonight, any one may begin the course tonight. One of the instruments the doctor carries with him simply for entertainment, the Critteroscope, will be introduced. The dissolving effects with the other lanterns are beautiful and inspiring.

Sunday School Rally.

The Sunday school of West Washington street Baptist church will have a rally of their forces next Sunday at 9:30 a. m. It is hoped that every member of the church and every person who has ever been connected with the school will be present. All the members of the school are requested to meet at the residence of Mr. E. W. Brooks, 625 South Elm street, Friday at 7:45 p. m., to practice some songs for the exercises.

"At an Early Date."

A letter received by a gentleman here from Messrs. Pearson & Ashe, architects of Raleigh, states that they will establish their branch office here at an early date. They have been considering the establishment of an office here for several months.

John Robinson, ex-Commissioner of Agriculture, died at his home near Raleigh yesterday of heart disease. His age was 65 years and he was a native of Anson county.

ALABAMA'S NEGRO SUFFRAGE

A Constitutional Convention To Restrict It Will Be Called.

TO BE HELD NEXT AUGUST.

There is Hardly a Reasonable Doubt That The Amendment Will Be Adopted in This State.

Special to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, March 30—In spite of opposition of a large number of democrats, the opinion of most persons coming to Washington from Alabama inclines to the belief that the proposed constitutional convention will be called and will be held next August. Mr. B. Moore, of Mobile, who is in the city, was seen at the Shoreham hotel Tuesday and he said that the constitutional convention is approved by a majority of the democrats of the state and that most of the minority will bow to the will of the majority and will acquiesce in the call. The object of the convention is avowedly for the purpose of adopting some plan to restrict negro suffrage in the state, as has already been done in the states of South Carolina, Mississippi and Louisiana. Mr. Moore says that the depriving of a large class of ignorant voters from the privileges of a franchise in Alabama, when it is accomplished will be a cause for rejoicing and that henceforth there will be no doubt of the ascendancy of the white race.

Mr. Charles Pasciel, of North Carolina, who is in the city, said that in his state there is hardly a reasonable doubt of the adoption of the amendment to the constitution amending the election laws, and he thinks that it will not be long before other states, including Alabama, Georgia and Virginia, will follow in the footsteps of those states which have already restricted the right of suffrage.

President McKinley and party returned to Washington from Thomasville Tuesday afternoon about half past four. The President is much benefited by his trip south and is anxious to visit the section again, and will probably do so in the near future, possibly in May, though this has not yet been definitely determined.

At the postoffice department it is stated that the amount of money alleged to have been embezzled by the postmaster at Rocky Mount, instead of $3,000, as was at first supposed. The postmaster was arrested in Washington, as stated last week, and returned to Rocky Mount, where he is now understood to be in jail awaiting trial. The postoffice department will probably prosecute the case. It was stated by one of the officials of the department that there is ample proof in the possession of the department to convict, notwithstanding the claim of the prisoner that he is a victim of a conspiracy, and that others in his office got hold of the money, and then laid the crime upon him.

Preparations for the national peace jubilee, which will be held in Washington from May 23rd to the 25th, are being rapidly pushed to completion. On the first day the military parade will take place in the afternoon, and many crack organizations from all over the country will attend. Among the famous organizations of the south which will come to Washington to take part in the jubilee parade are the Richmond (Va.) Howitzers, and the Charleston Blues. The West Point Cadets and Annapolis naval cadets will also come to Washington on this occasion.

A gentleman from North Carolina who was at the Metropolitan Hotel yesterday stated that in his opinion Mayor Waddill, of Wilmington, will be nominated for governor by the democrats at their next convention, and he says that he will be elected by a large majority. Under his administration as mayor, Wilmington has enjoyed a local government which has been free from scandal of every description.

The following Star Service changes have been ordered in North Carolina: Chublake to Ceffo. From April 1st, increase service to three times a week, and change the schedule to Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, same hours as at present. Swanner to Taylorsville. SAD ACCIDENT AT REIDSVILLE.

Mrs. M. A. Withers Falls Down Steps And Is Killed.

Special to THE TELEGRAM.

Reidsville, N. C. March 30—Mrs. M. A. Withers, an elderly lady of this place, accidentally fell down a small flight of three steps this morning and received injuries from which she died at 9:30.

Mrs. Withers belonged to one of the wealthiest and most prominent families of the city, and the accident is greatly deplored. Her age was 79.

The New City Directory.

Mr. Kersh, the manager of the new city directory, informs us that he is receiving fair encouragement from the business and professional men that he has seen, but some put him off with the statement that they will wait until the publication is a certainty. This will never insure a first-class directory for Greensboro. A growing city like ours needs a work like the kind the Maloney Directory Company gets out for other cities and no publisher can be expected to undertake the work unless he has reasonable assurance that he will not meet with a financial loss. The Maloney Directory Company get out first-class works and The Telegram hopes that when Mr. Kersh calls on the business men they will receive him cordially and give him an opportunity to show them the merits of his undertaking.

Hinkle's Millinery Opening.

The Telegram was invited to see the artistic display made in Hinkle Bros. millinery department. The Easter opening yesterday and today was attended by large crowds and among them were many enthusiastic buyers. This department is in charge of Miss Nellie May Norris, an expert designer and trimmer, and so accomplished is she in the art that she at once interests even a man, who has no idea of what a pretty hat really is until he sees it on the head of a pretty woman. If we may be permitted to judge, the taste displayed by Miss Norris is excellent and the blending of lovely colors most pleasing.

A FALSEHOOD.

A writer in the April number of the "Household," published at Boston, Mass., has an article which, in view of the grave problem which is confronting the people of the south, endeavors to show that not only is the negro his white brother's equal in many respects, but in some tranches of scholarship is his superior. The writer records a number of alleged instances where colored candidates for licenses or diplomas to practice the learned professions have outranked all their competitors. One of the paragraphs reads:

"The first graduate of the law school connected with the University at Raleigh ranked first in a class of nine who had to pass an examination by the Supreme court of the state."

A gentleman of Raleigh, who is an able lawyer and who for years has had an intimate acquaintance with the examinations by the North Carolina Supreme court, having his attention called by the Morning Post to the lying article in the "Household," said:

"I am familiar with the examinations and other proceedings before the Supreme court here for the last fifteen years, and I know the statement to be untrue. So far from the colored applicants from Shaw University or any other negro college outstripping their white competitors or classmates in the examinations, I know it to be the fact: 'First, that within the last ten years, say, there have been about fifty colored applicants for license to practice law in this State. Of that number the large majority have failed, some of them repeatedly, to satisfactorily stand the examination, and have finally had to abandon the attempt. Not one in five, I am sure, and if I should say not one in seven I would probably be nearer the exact number—have succeeded in securing license."

"There has never been a class of applicants numbering so few as nine, the number given by the 'Household,' and therefore the statement that a colored applicant stood at the head of a class of nine is incorrect on its face. Several of the colored applicants for license have barely succeeded in passing the examination, and not one of them has every displayed any such brilliancy or scholarship as the paragraph alluded to would indicate."

Such a futile attempt to demonstrate that the colored Shaw University at Raleigh is turning out better work from inferior material than the graduates of the grand old University of North Carolina, is preposterous and ridiculous, and only betrays the writer's shallow information, the poverty of his understanding or the contemptible sectionalism that still rankles in his breast.

The negroes of Mississippi have organized a cotton mill company, capitalized at $250,000. This is another feature of the colored cotton mill experiments that have been made from time to time. There have been a number of these experiments, but not one success has been recorded.—Charlotte News.

But this is eminently better than the same amount invested in whiskey and excursions, granting it a failure. The experience will be worth something.

Miss Gussie Tuck, a beautiful young lady of Canton, O., disappointed in love, swallowed a dose of deadly carbolic acid, told a friend what she had done, then sat down and smoked a cigarette while the poison killed her. The dispatch does not say what she did subsequently, and it is inferred that she continued to smoke.

Old Man John Sherman, whom the newspapers so cruelly killed last week, has arrived safely at his Washington home, and his physician sees no reason why he shouldn't live five or six years yet. Some papers would be glad at the arrival of the millennium if they could scoop their contemporaries on it.

If we are to encounter the same resistance in the remaining nineteen hundred and ninety-nine Philippines that has opposed us in the present one, when will this horrid war have an end?

The Filipino insurgents may not be so great as fighters, but as burners they are a decided success.—Exchange.

Yes, burners of the wind.

Notes of The Prowler

The door of the editorial sanctum opened a few evenings since and the Prowler, who had been absent for a day or two on a jaunt into the country, came in and sat down with an air of weariness. His pantaloons were bespattered with mud and upon his booted shirt-front traces of red alluvium lingered in spots. He limped slightly, and yawned occasionally with less of sleep. But in his eyes, those heavenly orbs, shone a happy but far-away look, as of joys past and pleasures flown. Then the Prowler began to talk. Oh, the depth of pathos that trembled in his broken voice as he told of his trip, and the dear ones he had met while away and whom, he assured us, he was going back to see again some day. The brave tears stole down his cheek as he related how, seated beside a lovely maiden, a buggy, his soul was translated on wings of the most overpowering love, and he forgot his earthly existence, becoming oblivious to all save the presence of his fair companion, and dreamed that he was seated beside an angel—in a chariot drawn by winged steeds—flying through the golden atmosphere, past Elysian fields, swifter than the speed of the wind—when he was suddenly brought to stern reality by the steed, which was only mortal, becoming stuck in the sticky mud of the country road and refusing to budge an inch. Here the Prowler broke down and wept. And we, having no time to listen further to his plaintive narrative, went on with our writing, and soon the Prowler got up and went out at the door.

In The Cosmopolitan.

There has been so much reference in the recent cable news from Europe to the strong feeling in France against England, and so much significant allusion to the experiments which the French are making with submarine boats, that the question of the possibility of a French military force ever crossing the English Channel becoming interesting, a writer in the April Cosmopolitan, "Quartier Etolles"—evidently a non-deplume—tells an ingenious story of the results of the consummation one hundred years later of that plan which was first conceived by Napoleon when he brought his army to the plains of Boulogne in 1804. When every detail of the plan has been successfully prepared, a great fleet on the cliffs of Boulogne brings the Channel Squadron and the Prince of Wales to join in the ceremony. Instantly and suddenly given by the president of the French republic, leads to an immediate declaration of war. The English fleet, unsuspecting of its real danger, moves to engage the battle-ships and cruisers of the French which merely serve as a decoy for their more than one thousand submarine vessels. How these latter accomplish their deadly work is told in a startling way. Then follows the invasion of England by three hundred thousand French troops, all in accordance with plans carefully arranged in advance—an invasion which takes place so quickly that the French battleships and transports are landing men at Sandgate almost before the foreign office knows of the declaration of hostilities; then follows the occupation of London, et cetera. This class of speculation, while implausible, nevertheless has some interesting points in view of existing complications. The subject is evidently handled by some one familiar with the military details involved. The non-deplume would seem to indicate a French officer.

An All Star Aggregation.

One of the neatest lines of Oxford ties ever shown in Greensboro is now offered at Shrier's. Ordinary y it is difficult to procure a comfortable shoe under $1.50 or $2.00 as they are usually stiff and unyielding to the foot. Such is not the case with our $1.25 vicid kid Oxford ties in black and colors made over the popular coin toe. These shoes are soft and flexible and guaranteed to give entire satisfaction. Shrier's, 216 South Elm st.

"Give me a liver regulator and I can regulate the world," said a genius. The druggist handed him a bottle of DeWitt's Little Early Risers, the famous little pills. Howard Gardner.

At Williamsport yesterday Judge Mayer discharged from custody Fred Miller, who recently attempted suicide by jumping from a bridge into the Susquehanna River.

No Cure—No Pay.

That is the way all druggists sell Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic for Chills and Malaria. It is simply iron and quinine in a tasteless form. Children love it. Adults prefer it to bitter nauseating tonics. Price, 50c.

Fifteen hundred employees of Norton Brothers' tin can factory in Maywood, Ill., struck yesterday for a restoration of 10 per cent cut in wages.

Before the discovery of One Minute Cough Cure, ministers were greatly disturbed by coughing congregations. No excuse for it now. Howard Gardner's.

Bidding America Farewell.

The great prima donna, Madame Scalchi, is to see America. She is making a farewell tour of this country, and visits for the first and last time most of the cities of the western and southern states. She wants to return to her home in Italy and be able to say that she has visited every city of over 5,000 inhabitants in the world.

She is meeting with unprecedented success all along the route. She will be here in a few days, and will sing many of the selections which have made her so famous all over the world. She will give a great program. Part I. will consist of the leading Arias from the grand operas. Part II. A complete performance of grand opera, in costume, scenes, etc. She is ably supported by Signor Alberti, the world renowned baritone; Mlle. Noldi, prima donna soprano; Signor Canzio, all of whom rank among the world's greatest artists.

It will be a musical treat rarely heard in our city, and there is no doubt but what the house will be filled to its utmost capacity.

Messrs. Bendheim & Sons offer some special bargains to Easter purchasers in their new ad.

Tickets on sale at Fariss' drug store for the great game Saturday. Game called at 3:30. Admission 50 cents.

The cheapest way in the world to get a new suit is to have an old one made new. Read Pressing Club's new ad.

Miss Jannie Debnam is now at Planter's hotel where she will be pleased to see her old friends and customers.

Lovers of good baseball will have an opportunity of seeing the genuine article of ball Saturday. Lehigh and North Carolina.

Miss Ethel Thomas, a student at Salem Female Academy, came home last evening to spend Easter, to the delight of her many friends.

The City National Bank is having the front of its building repainted and new shades placed in the large windows, adding greatly to the appearance of the quarters.

The Peoples' Savings Bank is still growing rapidly. Since August 1897, the net deposits have more than doubled. Notice the amount today as advertised on this page.

Will Murphy, colored, charged with retailing without license was jailed by Constable Dave Scott yesterday. It is said that Will has been dispensing the ardent spirits for some time.

The great baseball game of the season will be fought next Saturday at the athletic track between Lehigh University and the University of North Carolina teams. Don't fail to see it.

Mr. Walter Graham, vice-president of the Empire Steel and Iron Co., is in the city negotiating for lumber to repair the trestles along the siding leading from the A. & Y. Ry. to the furnace.

New lamps and lamp fixtures are just in at the China Emporium of E. M. Caldwell & Bro. Their store was a busy scene yesterday, the first bright day of the week, many shoppers calling to inspect the mammoth and varied lines carried.

The mules found by Officer Jordan and which are being kept at Tatum & Taylor's livery stable, have been identified as the property of W. A. Webster, of Madison. Messrs. Tatum & Taylor were informed so by a note this morning with no name signed.

Pursuant to a petition to that effect, signed by certain members of the Anti-Saloon League, a meeting of said league is hereby called to take place at the court house on tomorrow, (Friday) evening, at 8 o'clock. All members are requested to be present. By order of the President.

The Wilmington Athletic Club has taken unto itself the name of the "Paint and Powder Club" and will commence its tour Monday, April 10th, appearing in Fayetteville on that date. They will visit Greensboro, April 11th. The club is said to be made up of actors of rare talent. Greensboro will no doubt give them a warm welcome.

In all seasons Kaufmann has proven equal to the emergency in catching the eye of admirers of the latest and noblest things in the gent's furnishing line. His present Easter display surpasses all previous efforts, and in addition to gent's goods his right hand window today contains a beautiful line of ladies' puffs. The ladies should all see them.

It is a delight to lovers of the pretty and artistic to walk up and down our streets and view the many beautifully decorated windows. For instance, we were halted in front of C. M. Vanstov & Co's. this morning by the charming colors and unique arrangement in one of the large windows where almost everything in the shirt, collar and cravat line is displayed. See it for yourself.

HUDSON ENLARGING.

His Trade Has Outgrown His Present Store Room.

For some months it has been apparent that Hudson the grocer would have to move out or enlarge his store. Today the work of enlarging began. The small room in the rear of his place of business is being torn away to make room for an extension of the building 18x25 feet, two stories high, in order to accommodate his large and constantly increasing business.

Hudson is a believer in the virtue of printer's ink and has a regular ad in the Telegram which is always interesting to hungry people and those who like a variety of toothsome viands.

MRS. HODSEKKEPER:
Please permit us to ask you a very pointed question: Have you a Universal Food Chopper? By this we do not mean a meat grinder, but a Chopper, which takes the place of chopping bowl and beater.

It chops meat, of course, but it does more. You can chop ham, coconut, or bread instead of grating it. You can—but we can't tell it all here. Our booklet gives full information Free. You will have use for it every day in the year. It is very simple and very cheap. Please call and let us show it to you. Yours truly,

Shrier's First Offerings.

We take pleasure this season in presenting for your consideration what we consider the finest assortment of Form-Fitting Shoes for men and ladies, misses and children, ever shown in Greensboro.

Our lines for Spring are now complete and only await the prestige of your approval.

Every new idea in quality and finish, ease and comfort, grace of style and excellence of workmanship are embodied in this season's production.

Owing to our central location and the nominal expense required to conduct our business, we are enabled to sell our goods 25 per cent cheaper than any house in Greensboro, quality and make considered.

The question where to buy good and reliable goods at the right price is a very important one. We feel if you call on us, we can answer the question to your entire satisfaction, and make a lasting impression besides.

Do not be deluded by the thought that the assortments in the large cities are greater. True, the quantity is greater, but the assortment is no better, and the price is correspondingly higher, owing to the increase expense.

Kindly call on us at your earliest convenience and allow us to prove to you that these statements are true.
